A DELEGATE TO AMERICA. The translation of the documents which fix the standing of Delegate Satolli has created a profound impression among Roman Catholics who do not know force of the Latin credentials sent by the Pope to his Delegate, and signed by Cardinal Vanutelli. A minent layman said a day or two ago:

-If it was not evident before that Archbishop Satell is high in the Pope's confidence and favor, this recent document dispels all doubt. It is a commisson to do as he deems fit under the circumstances. and a selemn declaration that the Pope will stand to him, no matter whose influence rises against him in me. His opponents have nothing left to do but Mctinty, and remain at the bottom for some time. I see that estimable cherical society, the Price reverein, has announced its intention of holding no convention this year—a clear case of surrender to The only thing I regret is that we did not secure a residence for him in New-York when years. Baltimore captured the first congress, and Chicago the second, against our best efforts. Washed the university in the same way, and boodwinked us as to the character of the Dele the Church again without so much as a left-handed spacety for his very insulting utterances. The luck WALBRODT DEFEATS GOLMAYO AND IS BEATEN

New-Yorkers are much depressed at the high rank the Delegate now takes before the whole world. His position is unassailable. Even the Pope's death will not affect blim. A distinguished ecclesiastic, personally acquainted with the Pope and the Delegate, said to a reporter. "There seems to be nothing which bee XIII cannot accomplish when his determination is aroused. For years he has sought to send a representative to this country and to England. It was the dream of Plus IX, who sent Archbishop Begini on a mission that ended in failure. Pope Leo proof it again and again on the American bishops, met each time with the steady assertion inflame the bigoted and encourage the insubordinate. Cardinal Gibbons and Archbishop Corrigan, Archhistop Katzer and Archbishop Ireland, although on opposite sides of the fence, were united in refusing dubious an honor as a resident delegate; empowered to revise their acts and set aside their judgments. Even as late as the last conference in New-York these prelates foliaed in declaring to the Pope that a delegate was not needed in America. They withdrew that little indiscretion before it reached the Pope. There is an old Cardinal, Sepiacel, residing in Edme at present, who was made Archbishop ten years ago with the design of sending him as delegate to America. He was not sent because Cardinal McCloskey and other prelates made too strong a fight against it.

"How then do I account for the final triumph of the Pope in fairly stealing a march, not only on the American prelates, but on the Propaganda itself? It can't be accounted for at present, but I can give you a surmise. You recall how confident were certain bishops when Archbishop Satolii arrived in Nee-York that he was not more than a Papal agent; also how a little controversy arese in the agent; also how a little controversy arose in the dallies and among the people as to his true character, with an ever-growing impression that he was a delegate in earnest, and finally, when the public mind was resigned to necept him in any form, prowind was resigned to accept him in any form, pro-vided the mystery was cleared up, how he bloomed into the gorgeous official who now rules the American hierarchy with their consent and advice. There is but one eminent prelate in the country able to conceive and carry out so clear a scheme as that successfully. Archbishop Ireland did it all with his little hatchet. The question is, however, did he not do more? Is he not really responsible for the Pope's triumph? The story of his stay in Rome is common talk new; how he had almost daily interviews with Pope Leo; got the Jesuits badly snubbed, and the Propaganda ordered to respect his mands, and with all Rome against him came demands, and with all frome against him came away unscathed and crowned with glory. "It is perfectly plain to me that his success was wen by the simple expedient of premising to establish the Papal Delegate in America, to pave the way for him and to make his mission popular and even splen-did. This is the secret of Ireland's influence with the Pope. He has endeared himself to the old Pope forever, and if Leo lives to hold another consistory lorever, and it Leo lives to hold another consistory Ireland will be named Cardinal as surely as the sun rises to-morrow. He has fulfilled his piedges. The Delegate is firmly settled; a residence will be built for him, and he will proceed at once to show the Pope's gratitude by doing Dr. Ireland many favors. Amid all his diplomatic triumphs, and they have been many and astonishing. Lee XIII counts not the least the establishment of a Delegate in America, after a diplomatic struggle on Rome's part lasting forty years. One cannot but admire the acuteness and nerve which Archbishop Ireland displayed in carrying his points against his enersies, or rather his opponents. Yet he may live to regret the price he hald for his victory. A delegate can be a crown of thorns to the strongest of prelates."

authority to build "exterior streets" along the water front of New-York. This highly important bill, involving property worth millions and giving the city authorities power to expend millions of dollars, passed, in part, as follows on Thursday:

The Department of Docks is hereby authorized and empowered, with the consent and the approval of the Commissioners of the Stables.

FIFTY PERSONS EXCOMMUNICATED.

FATHER LEAHEY'S MOVE AGAINST FATHER TREACY'S FOLLOWERS AT SWEDESBORO.

Swedesboro, N. J., March 12 (Special).-There were turbulent and exciting scenes in this quiet little town to-day, and at one time there was every indication of a serious conflict between the followers of Father William Treacy and the people who have obeyed the command of the Catholic Church. The little flock of St. Joseph's parish is divided against itself, and about the members who have elected to cast their lot with the priest were dramatically excommunicated by Father Leahey, who was sent here to take charge of the church by filshop O'Farrell. The little church was deserted, Deputy Sheriff Garrison standing guard all day long on the steps. Early in the day a great crowd gathered about the church. When Father Treacy appeared on the scene he an-noned that mass would be said at the home of Martin Monahan, about two squares away, and that all the faithful should follow him. More than fifty made their way to Morahaa's house. Mass over, the belligerent priest made a long address, with no effort at preaching, urging his followers to stay by him, and promising to accept the responsibility for their acts. His whole address breathed defiance of Monsigner Satolli and Bishop Farrell, and presented him-self as a martyr, persecuted because of his devotion to his deposed brother.

Meantime about 100 of the parishloners assembled. Meantime about 100 of the parishonics assembled in Howeli's Hall, where Father Leahey said mass, afterward formally excommunicating Father Treacy and the other persons attending the service at Monahau's house. Father Leahey then circulated a paper making a formal demand for possession of St. Joseph's, and over elenty persons signed it. Crasping the paper, the priest marched out, with 100 or maps paristioners at his heels, and made straight for the church, where he read the demand for possession of the building. The deputy sheriff's reply was that the law would settle the difficulty.

WHAT PEEKSKILL IS DOING.

To the Editor of The Tribune. Sir: The wit of Dr. Depew has contributed to make Perkskill well known over half the world, and pertaps it is not entirely unknown to the other half, but we are trying to win fame for ourselves by making our village unique among places of 10,000

Inhabitants as the home of no drunkards.

I say we are trying to do this. It is not yet ac emplished. But in a simple common-sense way w are making progress toward that end, not merely by Praying in the churches, though we do that; nor by moreing the laws restraining liquor selling, we have Law and Order League doing that, but by treating he poor victim of drunken habits as a helplessly sick man, and first curing his physicial infirmity, then have now twenty-six men from Peekskill who either have taken or are taking the Keeley treatment, some of them dating their case back to 1891, and not one of these has wavered for a moment or drank a drop of intoxicants since he completed the treatment. Some of these men are well-known and prominent here, others are plain mechanics and workingmen, but all were violent, hard drinkers, and some were habitual-an were violent, hard drinkers, and some were habitually disorderly and riotous when in their cups. How freat and radical the change is we, who know the freat and radical the change is we, who know the freat and radical the change is we, who know the men, can well testify, but how much better do the wives and children of men who now are sober and industrious workmen know the change which has come into their modest homes.

We have a Keeley Relief Association, of which Mr. J. R. Decatur is president, and which, so far as it can raise fands for the purpose is helping "the least of these, His brethren," out of the gutter into decency and manhood. There are some wonderful cures here and not a failure. So we are courageous and hopeful, but the work is large, and help would be very welcome. very welcome. Peckskill, N. Y., March 11, 1863.

PRESIDENT CLEVELAND'S SUNDAY.

NO EVIDENCE THAT HE HAS SELECTED A

CHURCH HOME-MR. STEVENSON'S CHOICE. Washington, March 12.-1f President Cleveland has selected his church home in Washington, he gave no evidence of that choice to-day. He did not attend divine worship, but spent the morning quietly rest-ing from the arduous duties of his first week in office. Some attention was paid to matters of pressing importance, and his private secretary, Mr. Thurber, remained in the office the better part of the day. A little after 3 o'clock, Mr. and Mrs. Cleveland went for a drive, and for more than an hour enjoyed the beauty of a day that war perfect.

Vice-Fresident Stevenson, accompanied by Mrs. Stevenson, attended the morning service at the New-York Avenue Presbyterian Church, which is the same they attended during the previous Democratic Administration. Mr. Stevenson has not yet selected a pew, but to-day occupied that of Noble Larner. In the afternoon, accompanied by Judge Lawrence, of the Ccurt of Claims, and Lewis stevenson, his son, the Vice-President took a stroll. This evening he re-ceived a number of calls from personal friends.

HE KNOCKED THE POLICEMAN SENSELESS.

Patrick McCloskey, of Greene and York sts., Jersey City, has for a long time borne a grudge against Policeman Braunwold. Last night McCloskey was drunk and met Braunwold on York-st. He began to abuse the officer and was arrested. On the way to the station he seized Braunwold's club and dealt him a blow on the head that stretched him senseless. Two citizens who were passing seized McCloskey, while a third rang an alarm for the patrol wagon. Braunwold was still unconscious when he reached the police station, and a physician was unable to revive him for half an hour. Then he was sent to his home. McCloskey was locked up.

A DEFENCE OF HIS NEW-ENGLAND SCHEME

A MIDNIGHT RECEIVERSHIP FOR THE ROAD BELIEVED TO BE IMPOSSIBLE-AD. VANTAGES OF THE READING

ALLIANCE SET FORTH. Boston, March 12.-In view of the published statement that a midnight receivership might frustrate the plan of the McLeod interests to obtain control of the New-York and New-England Railroad at the annual prepared for a receivership, and the additional assertion that the Reading interests had the proxies to control the election but not the cash to hold the stock under the fire of a receivership, the following state-ment of the condition of the New-England road and the outlook for it under Reading control is made by parties friendly to that management.

A gleantic effort is still being made to depress New-England stock in order that the control may pass from the hands of Reading's friends, but the effort will be unsuccessful. The net floating debt on De-cember 31, 1892, was only $379,354, as against $438, 303, on December 31, 1801, the reduction during the year having been $50,030. The Parsons management, which succeeded that of Mr. Corbin in the first quarter of 1892, was hampered in its financial man-agement by the purchase last autumn of the majority of the stock by the McLeod interest. A reduction in the amount of floating debt, although small, was therefore very encouraging. The gross floating debt includes $470.910, interest accrued to December 31, 1892. Against the interest is held $292,600 cash, 8602,395 due from agents and conductors, and $828,-503 due from companies and individuals. These facts show that a receivership is impossible. The money for interest is in hand, and the notes payable of $442,-

The alliance with the Reading will be most advantageous to the New-England. In fact, its net earnings increased $170,000 in the last quarter of 1892, and gross earnings for January, 1893, increased $70,000. The New-England road consists of 300 miles owned, 165 miles leased and 11 miles run under traffic arrangements. The company owns or controls by lease direct entrance into Boston, Providence, Hartford, Springfield, Worcester and other important robusts. portant points. Through the old lease of the Norwich and Worcester Railroad, the New-England controls the Norwich and New-York Transportation Company's line steamers, plying from New London to New York City.

The purchase of the New York and Northern Railroad by the New Haven interests prevented the New-England from obtaining an all-rail entrance into New-York City on the east side of the Hudson River, but the sound Line, from New-London to New-York, is in operation, and will so continue.

The failure of the Reading interests to acquire the New-York and Northern, even if such a deal was seriously thought of, may not be of particular moment, nasmuch as the New-York terminal would have been far away from the business centre, and the cost was excessive. Freight via the New-England destined excessive. Freight via the New range of the New-York City which cannot be shipped by the sound line, can go by rail on the western banks of the Philadelphia and Reading the Hudson River, The Philadelphia and Reading leases the Philadelphia, Reading and New-England road, which is the reorganization and consolidation of the Poughkeepsie Bridge and connecting lines. It furnishes the shortest line between the Penn-ylvani-coal fields and the New-England states, and the Im portance of the matter to both the Reading and to the New-York and New-England road is that the latter runs to Hopewell, where connection is made with the Poughkeepsie Bridge system. The freight of the New-England could be moved from Hopewell to the Bridge, only twelve miles northwesterly, cross the west bank of the Hudson, thus reaching its New York destination. The Reading Railroad controls the Hartford and Connecticut Western Railroad, giving entrance into Hartford, and a twenty-mile spur built to Springfield would give close connection with the Boston and Maine.

If the New-Haven plan could be fully carried out, the New-England states would have no railroad com-petition and the laws of several of the States are such that no competing mileage could ever be built. is no doubt that the net earnings of the roads em braced in the McLeod combination will be materially increased when the plans shall be under way.

be paid on the 526 miles of New-York and New-England is $22,075,550. The fixed interest capitaliza-tion on the 144 miles of the Poughkeepele Bridge system is $7,723,000, bringing the total of $70 miles business over the Reading's Poughacepsie bruge Pys-tem may yet be tested.

Mr. McLeod's associates are confident that his con-frol of the New-England will be of the greatest bene-fit to the shareholders of that company as well as to the Reading Company.

RUMOR OF A LEASE DENIED.

He adds, moreover, that not a word on this subject has ever passed, directly or indirectly, at a meeting of the Con-cord and Montreal directors.

He received two important telegrams rom the scene of the trouble, which indicate that the from the scene of the trouble, which indicate that the strike will be speedily adjusted. One of the dis-patches was to the effect that the United States Court had decided that all milroads in he territory of the Ann Arbor Road must accept freight from the Toledo, Ann Arbor and North Michigan, and that an order to that effect would be issued by the court this morning. The other telegram was from ex-Congressman Ashley, of Ohio, president of the road, and said that the sirikers, through Chief Arthur, were willing to declare the strike off if the railroad officials would meet their employes as individuals and lister to their grievances. Vice-President Ashley, after relating these facts to a reporter, said that he agree to these terms, and would start immediately for Toledo to treat with his employers. He said it could be abnounced authoritatively that the strike would be declared off at noon today.

A MISSING WATCH FOUND IN A RUBBER BOOT. A young Swede named Uncle Jansen, twenty-two years old, was arraigned at the Yorkville Police Court resterday, charged with the theft of a $75 gold watch from Peter Magnuson. The detective then made a search of Jansen's room, and was about giving p the search waen his attention was attracted by "tick," "tick," "tick," As there was no clock or watch to be seen, he made another search, and in a rubber boot belonging to Jansen the missing watch was found. Pearing that it would gain entrance in Montana, I had the dectors vaccinate every man, woman and child that needed it in that department. This was a precautionary measure and I believe it is due to that safeguard that not a single case of smallpox was reported. Even the Indian soldiers, who take everything as easily as they do whiskey, escaped. When asked what was the object of his visit here, he said: "My visit is purely one of recreation. My wife and I wished to escape for a time the severity of the northwestern climate." General Merritt will soon go to Washington.
